

First DAAD Summer School on Current Trends in Distributed Systems (CTDS' 09)

24 - 26 September 2009, Hotel Barceló, La Marsa-Gammarth, Tunisia
<http://redcad.org/summerschool09>

General Chair

Bernd Freisleben

Marburg University, Germany

Steering Committee

Anis Charfi

SAP Research, Germany

Abdelmajid Ben Hamadou

Miracl, ISIMS, Tunisia

Hanene Ben Abdallah

Miracl, ISIMS, Tunisia

Mohamed Jmaiel

ReDCAD, ENIS, Tunisia

Slim Kallel

ReDCAD, FSEGS, Tunisia

Mira Mezini

Darmstadt University, Germany

Mohamed Erradi

ENSIAS, Rabat, Morocco

The First DAAD Summer School on Current Trends in Distributed Systems (CTDS 2009) provides a unique opportunity to examine recent advances and trends such as service computing, grid computing, cloud computing, web computing etc. It brings together international experts from around the world and graduate students, young researchers and professionals.

This summer school will allow the participants to better understand and assess the recent developments in distributed systems from different perspectives. In addition to high quality training offered, it provides a rich and enjoyable social and cultural program including visits to Carthage and Tunis.

This summer school is sponsored by the German Academic Exchange Service in the context of the program "German-Arab/Iranian Cultural Dialogue".

Speakers and Talks

Boualem Benatallah (UNSW, Australia): Mashups and SaaS

Christophe Cérin (University of Paris, France): Grid Middleware

Thomas Hofmann (Google, Switzerland): Web Computing

Michael P. Papazoglou (Tilburg Uni., Netherlands): SOA Analysis and Design

Stefan Tai (University of Karlsruhe, Germany): Cloud Computing

Jean-Yves Tigli (University of Nice, France): Ubiquitous Computing

Important Dates

Early registration
deadline

Friday, 6 September 2009

Late registration
deadline

Sunday, 20 September 2009

About the Venue

The summer school will take place in the 5* Hotel Barceló (La Marsa-Gammarth, Tunisia), which is located on the beach of Gammarth just 20 minutes away from Tunis and the most important centers of cultural interest.

Registration

<http://redcad.org/summerschool09/Registration.htm>

Contact

Hanene Ben-Abdallah
Niels Fallenbeck

hanene.benabdallah@fsegs.rnu.tn fallenbe@mathematik.uni-marburg.de

Philipps

Universität
Marburg

